ROUTE DESCRIPTION

From the Beatles Story (Royal Albert Dock).

Q1. To the right of the Beatles Story and to the right of the door/entrance to the Albert Dock/Britannia Pavilion, there is a circular plaque. Who opened the (Royal) Albert Dock on 30 July 1846?

On 6th June 2018, the Albert Dock was granted a royal title, so is now the Royal Albert Dock.i

Go through main entrance into the Royal Albert Dock. [If the doors are locked, turn toward the River Mersey and then turn right along the river, until you reach the statue of Billy Fury]. Once inside the dock, turn left and follow walkway round keeping dock on your right. At end, ahead passing Piermasters House on left. At statue of Billy Fury, go ahead across bridge, then bear left along Riverside Walkway. Keep River on left, the Liverpool Museum is to your right (you will pass 3 "Superlambananas" sculptures, unless they have walked!). Ahead along cobbled area, river still on left, passing the Royal Navy Memorial, the statue of the Navy Captain, F J Walker CB DSO and the Merchant Navy memorials. Continue along walkway and pass between the Pier Head Building and Statue of Edward VII (on his horse) CRUISE TERMINAL JOINING POINT then Turn Right and ahead between the Royal Liver Building and the Cunard Building along Water Street.

The Cunard Building constructed between 1914-1917 was once the Headquarters and main passenger terminal for the world's most famous shipping company, the Cunard Steamship Company. The Royal Liver Building which opened in 1911 is home to two fabled Liver Birds that watch over the city and the sea. The building is crowned by a pair of clock towers with faces 25 ft (7.6 m) in diameter, larger than those of London's famous landmark, Big Ben, holding the distinction of being the largest electronically driven clocks in the UK. The third building is the Port of Liverpool Building, built between 1903-1907. Together they are known as The Three Graces.

At end, Georges Dock Gates, use Pedestrian Crossing into Water Street opposite. Continue up Water Street (keep on left hand side pavement) and after crossing Rumford Street, note the Martins Bank building on your left with the large green doors. At the next street (no street sign/name), Turn Left before the red sandstone building which is the Town Hall. (Built between 1749 & 1754, the sculptures around the exterior represent the countries with which Liverpool traded. The Beatles attended a civic reception here on Friday 10 July 1964 before the premier of "A Hard Days Night") . Continue on pavement between Martins Bank/Town Hall to reach a plaque on the wall, just after the Parking Machine.

Q2. At the plaque on the wall of the bank. In May 1940 what was brought from London and placed for safekeeping in the vaults of the Martins Bank?

Continue along pavement, go through the bollards and enter Exchange Flags (a cobbled square). It is worth exploring the monuments in this area. Bear Right across the square keeping the red sandstone Town Hall building to your right. Leave Exchange Flags by the High Street (Town Hall still on your right). At end, cross the road using Pedestrian Crossing outside Town Hall into Castle Street opposite. Continue along the lefthand side of Castle Street and then bear left into Derby Square (On the opposite side of Derby Square is the Law Courts and the Victoria Monument) and then Turn Left into Lord Street. At end, cross road using pedestrian crossing and Turn Left into North John Street. Pass the building with the 4 statues and Turn Right into Matthew Street - signposted Cavern Quarter. Just before the Cavern Club, The Cavern Wall of Fame can be seen on the left, this lists all the famous artists who have appeared at the Cavern Club.

Q3. Just after the Wall of Fame on the left hand side of Matthew Street, there is an Information Board with a purple top - saying 'The Cavern'. How many times did The Beatles play here to make it the most famous club in the world?

Due to building work this question/answer may not be visible; alternative question. On the left hand side is a sculpture called 'Four Lads Who Shook the World', above this what is the name of the street

Continue along Matthew Street

The original Cavern Club was demolished in 1973 to make way for the underground railway. In the early 1980's the site was excavated, exposing the famous archways and it was rebuilt on over 75% of it's original site with many of it's original bricks. It re-opened in 1984 and was re-established as a live music venue in the 1990's. High on the wall opposite The Cavern Club is a sculpture by Arthur Dooley, entitled "Beatles Street".

Continue along Matthew Street to emerge opposite the Met Quarter. Cross road and turn left for 100m along Stanley Street to reach the Eleanor Rigby statue on the right. Retrace your steps along Stanley Street and continue to the end. Turn left (this is Whitechapel) and keeping to the righthand side of the pedestrian area keep straight ahead, passing Queens Square Bus Station on your right and ahead still on Whitechapel to cross road to St Johns Gardens and ahead, passing Hillsborough Disaster Memorial Bronze toward the World Museum (*route option: the gardens and memorials are worth a look, enter up the steps and exit the gardens by the top left hand path to continue on the route Central Library). Turn Right uphill (St Johns Gardens will be on your right, World Museum on your left). Continue to the *Central Library

Q4. At the Liverpool Central Library, the path to the entrance has titles of books. Starting at the pavement, write down the "red" letters working your way to the door of the library, to spell out a literary clue. (There are 4 words, 7,2,3,4 letters)

The Liverpool Central Library re-opened in September 2013 after extensive refurbishment. The Picton Reading Room, Oak Room and Hornby Library on the First Floor are well worth a visit. The Picton Reading Room is considered to be one of the most beautiful libraries in the world, it is circular with a gallery which you can walk round. The Oak Room houses a copy of John James Audubon's massive 'Birds of America', described as the greatest natural history book ever produced. Free entry and toilets and cafe inside. There are spectacular views from the roof terrace over the city, lift available or take the stairs to enjoy the design of the library.

From the Library, continue uphill, passing the exterior of the circular Picton Reading Room and by Walker Art Gallery, Turn Right along Lime Street, The Empire Theatre is opposite and pass in front of St Georges Hall.

Continue to pass Lime Street Railway Station (POINT A) and ahead towards the Crown Hotel (both are on the opposite side to St Georges Hall). Turn Right into Elliot Street, with St John's Shopping Precinct to your right and continue down slope or steps to the bottom of the pedestrian area. At the t-junction, Turn Left into Church Street (sign high on left) and using pedestrian crossing go ahead into Bold Street. Go all the way to the top of Bold Street and St Lukes Church. Turn Right into Berry

Street and at traffic lights, Turn Left into Upper Duke Street (street sign high up on left). (As you turn into Upper Duke Street notice the entrance to China Town on your right) Continue uphill passing the Liverpool Cathedral (Anglican) on the other side of the road. (The Anglican Cathedral built of local sandstone, is the world's largest Anglican Cathedral with the highest Gothic arches and vaults ever built. The tower is 331ft high and the cathedral has the highest and heaviest ringing peal of bells in the world).

Just after LIPA carpark, turn left into Hope Street (There is not a street sign but there is a sign on the litter bin opposite, there is also a red pillar/post box on opposite side of road by Back Canning Street). Continue along Hope Street until you reach a stone luggage sculpture (information board on left on Mount Street).

Q5. On the Information board "A Case History"? Which person is named against item number 20?

Turn Left into Mount Street, pass Liverpool Institute and School of Art 1825 and Turn Right into Pilgrim Street. Turn Right again into Rice Street . (Ye Cracke PH is another pub associated with early Beatle history. John & Cynthia Lennon passed many hours here as their romance blossomed) and then cross Hope Street into Falkner Street (No. 36 was the first home of John & Cynthia Lennon). Turn Left onto Catharine Street and at end continue forward and cross road on zebra crossing to The City of Liverpool College - The Arts Centre.

Q6. On the end of The City of Liverpool College - The Arts Centre building there is a plaque. What stood on this site originally?

Continue along Oxford Street and when it becomes Mount Pleasant, the Roman Catholic Metropolitan Cathedral is on the opposite side of the road. (It cost £1.9 million and took 4½ years to build. It opened in 1967 and can accommodate 2,200 worshippers, there is a cafe and toilets here.)

Continue ahead downhill on Mount Pleasant passing Mount Pleasant Car Park (POINT B) to eventually reach the Britannia Adelphi Hotel.

Using pedestrian crossings, go into Ranelagh Street which is opposite Hotel and site of former Lewis's department store, note the plaque to David Lewis, founder of Lewis's as you proceed along Ranelagh Street. Continue, passing Liverpool Central Station and ahead as road becomes Hanover Street. Just after BBC Radio Merseyside, Turn Right into College Lane. At junction, Turn Left into Manesty's Lane. You are now in the Liverpool One shopping complex. At John Lewis go straight ahead into Paradise Place then bear left (stone steps on your right).

Q7. Opposite the stone steps, there is a viewing window in the floor into the old dock. On the rail round the viewing window, who was the old dock designed by and when?

Continue ahead on Thomas Steers Way (note the Measuring the Tides inscriptions in the paved walkway, the information board is on the right) towards the Royal Albert Dock. Cross at the Pedestrian Crossing into the Royal Albert Dock. Turn Left at Edward Pavilion and ahead along the dock to reach red pillar/post box at Anchor Courtyard. Turn Right to return to The Beatles Story (Royal Albert Dock).

Lincolnshire Vikings Walking Club hope you have enjoyed your walk.
